PARKER REPELS ENEMY ATTACKS

CALLS UPON MISGUIDED OFFICERS TO RESIGN FROM MILITARY SERVICE.

Atlanta, May 20.—In a signed statement issued tonight, following a conference with Governor L. G. Hardman, Adjutant General Homer C. Parker calls on a dozen high-ranking, ambitious and misguided officers of the national guard to "tender their resignations to the governor," saying in the statement, "since these 12 officers can neither endure nor tolerate the commander-in-chief or the adjutant general, it is only reasonable to assume that they will hasten to separate themselves from the military establishment."

The adjutant general's statement gives a resume of what was reported to him to have been the procedure at the recent annual convention of the National Guard Officers' Association, and refers to the fact that during two years past there has been much about the fight waged against him by certain officers in the national guard.

After reviewing his military training and experience, including a long army service, General Parker, a native of Bulloch county, a member of one of the oldest families in the state, concludes his statement as follows:

"During the past two years much has been said about the fight that has been waged against me by certain officers in the Georgia national guard. Up to this time I have endured the criticism in silence. The time has come when I believe it behooves me to speak. I am convinced that the people of Georgia want me to speak."

"In order that those who do not know what the 'rumpus' is all about may be informed, let me start at the beginning. In 1927, after having served my country for approximately six years as an officer in the army, I believed I would like to be an adjutant general of Georgia. I had never been a member of the Georgia national guard, (this found later to be criminal in the eyes of certain national guard officers), and I was not familiar with the internal dissension, strife, political factions and ambitions that existed in the guard at that time and still are in evidence. It so happened that I lived in a small town in Georgia that had no national guard organization located within its borders for about twenty years prior to 1927. I was not old enough to

Tax Equalizers Begin Preparing Tax Digest

The Bulloch county board of tax equalizers began last week the work of reviewing the tax returns for the year. To date they have about completed the preliminary work, which consists of comparing the returns with those of last year. After that work has been completed it will be necessary to make returns for the large number who failed to do so for themselves. It is believed the valuations for the county will be above those of last year.

Will Honor the Dead By Serving the Living

May 30th is memorial day for the World War dead, also poppy day. The poppy is a symbol of the World War and has won a place in the hearts of the people of many countries as a memorial flower.

The poppy that is worn is a tribute to the memory of the men who gave their lives in service to their country in the great war, is made by the disabled men of that war. In this way the men make quite a nice sum each year for the support of their families and in many cases use their earnings to receive an education in order that they may some day be able to carry on regardless of their disability.

When we know of men who have lost both legs from effects of the war, that are still able to earn a livelihood by making poppies can we ignore the service they have rendered and refuse to help sell their poppies?

Poppy day is not "rag day" and every little red flower you wear in your buttonhole has been shaped by the hands of disabled veterans, and every penny you drop into the box of the poppy sellers goes to aid the disabled, their families and the families of the dead.

It is the desire of the American Legion Auxiliary that every person in Statesboro buy one of these poppies on May 30th.

MONIES RECEIVED FOR STORM FUND

LOCAL TREASURER MAKES SHOWING OF RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS BY HIM.

C. B. McAllister, treasurer of the local Red Cross chapter today makes public his report of funds received and disbursed by him to date. This report closes his activities, since all monies received now are being turned over directly into the hands of the field representative of the Red Cross, Miss Daley, who is in charge of the work here, and whose office is in the Bank of Statesboro building.

The report of Mr. McAllister is as follows:

As treasurer of the local chapter of the American Red Cross I beg to hand you herewith a financial statement showing the financial activity of the local chapter since the recent tornado that visited our section. I would appreciate publication of this statement for the information of our people.

Total collections of money . . . $5,835.57	Disbursements
Gas and oil for trucks used . . . 2.15	Stamped envelopes . . . 4
Gas and oil for trucks used . . . 18.75	Gas and oil for trucks used . . . 18.75
Cotton seed . . . 28.00	Freight on seed . . . 8.90
Freight on seed . . . 8.90	Rome Stove and Range Co. for 55 cook stoves . . . 404.00
Rome Stove and Range Co. for 55 cook stoves . . . 404.00	Paid National Headquarters 5,578.77
Paid National Headquarters 5,578.77	Total . . . $5,835.57

(These stoves were transported free by the Central of Georgia Railway from Rome.)

You will observe from the above statement that some money was disbursed by local chapter, and the rest was turned over to national headquarters by way of explanation, I wish to advise that this was brought about by the fact that some money was needed before the national workers arrived, and since they arrived they are paying all bills and we turned our collections over to national headquarters to be used by them.

Yours very truly,

C. B. McALLISTER, Treasurer.

Brooklet Baptists to Have Revival Services

Revival services will begin at the Brooklet church Monday morning, June 10th, at 10 o'clock. Rev. J. Fred Eden, of Macon, will do the preaching. Rev. Eden is a Christian character who loves the Lord and His work, is a great church worker and builder, and we feel that in the coming of Mr. Eden we will be greatly benefited, the church, homes and community life will be blessed.

A very cordial invitation is extended to all men everywhere to come and worship with us at all these meetings. Morning, 10:30; and 8:15 o'clock at night. Each service will be preceded by a twenty-minute service of songs.

T. P. SIEBENMAN, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

There will be no preaching service at the First Baptist church on next Sunday morning on account of the commencement sermon at the high school. Sunday school meets at 10 and will dismiss in time to go to the school building for the sermon. The pastor will preach at the evening service on "How God Makes Himself Known to Men." The evening services will be at 8:30 o'clock during the summer.

Poultry Sale Next Wednesday at Central

A poultry car will be at the Central of Georgia depot all day Wednesday, May 29th. Loading will begin at 9 o'clock and continue all day. The early afternoon will probably be the best time for those who have large lots of chickens, since the rush will be over by then. Unfortunately we do not receive the bids in time to publish the prices, but the prices will be printed on handbills and distributed. This will probably be the last car operated this season, though we hope to be able to run one more car in June. Fryers will very likely be cheaper on the last car. I would like for all farmers to get the prices before bringing chickens, as sometimes dissatisfaction is caused by not knowing the prices in advance.

FOUR YOUTHS HELD ON ARSON CHARGE

JONES AND THREE LANIERS SAID TO HAVE SET FIRES IN SPIRIT OF FUN.

At the close of an all-day preliminary hearing here Saturday before Justices E. D. Holland and H. B. Kennedy, four young men from the Bay district were bound over to the grand jury on charges of arson. The accused are Millard Jones, Gordon Lanier, Adcus Lanier and Monnie Lanier. They were unable to make a bond of $1,500 each in the three cases and were remanded to jail.

The district charged with setting fire to and totally destroying four houses on the night of May 4, in the Bay district. One of the houses was owned by D. B. Warnell and Griner Brothers, turpentine operators; one belonged to Berry Floyd, and the other to the husband of Charlie and Walter Roach, brothers, of Savannah. Charlie Roach is a member of the Savannah police force, and Walter Roach is employed on the Atlantic Coast Line railroad.

It was alleged that the young men were out for a lark at night and destroyed the houses in a spirit of frolic. Two of the houses were valuable residences, worth together around $4,000. Anderson and Jones represented the defendants, and A. M. Deal assisted Solicitor General Neville in the prosecution. About fifteen witnesses were introduced by the state, but the defendants presented no evidence and declined to make statements in their own behalf.

At last week Hart county folk sent Bulloch county a shipment of cotton, for planting, practically everything in that county in the way of crops having been lost in the storms that visited South Georgia some three weeks ago.

Hartwell and Hart county people are glad of the opportunity to show in a material way their appreciation for the help Bulloch county extended to us when the drought wrought havoc with our own crops several years ago.

Some thirty-odd people were killed in the rural districts around Statesboro, the county seat of Bulloch county, during the recent storm.

Register High School Faculty Is Completed

The faculty for Register High School for next year has been completed and is as follows: Vocational instructor and superintendent, J. B. Pullen, Cadwell, Ga.; home economics, Mrs. J. B. Pullen; mathematics and science, Earle Love, Nunez, French and Latin, Miss Elizabeth Edmiston, Vidalia; 7th Grade, Miss Roxie Nevils; 5th Grade and basketball coach, Miss Sarah Smith, Statesboro; 4th Grade, Miss Bernice Lee, Leefield; 3rd Grade, Miss Lillie Bradley, Lee; 2nd Grade, Miss Sallie Riggs; 1st Grade, Miss Irene Atkins, Dudley.

Warren Jones, 13-year-old Chicago boy, admitted small thefts of goods from neighbors to gratify his love for the movies.

HART RETURNED FAVOR TO BULLOCH

Official Death Toll in South Georgia As Result of Tornadoes
Augusta, Ga.—Official figures of the toll taken by recent tornadoes in South Georgia show there were fifty-three lives lost, 322 persons severely injured, and a property loss of $1,500,000.

This report was made by Walter Davidson, assistant general field manager of the American Red Cross, on a trip through the stricken area. Mr. Davidson said crop damage was severe. His figures showed $150,000 was needed for immediate relief, which the Red Cross has contributed $25,000.

"Turn about is fair play," goes the adage, and then there's another one about bread cast upon the waters will return, etc.

At any rate, Hart county was in the middle of drought some four or five years ago, and Bulloch county sent her a carload of corn. That was a mighty fine thing they did, and our people will never forget the spirit that prompted it.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT BETHLEHEM CEMETERY

The American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary will hold a short memorial service at 5:30 on the afternoon of May 30th at Bethlehem cemetery in memory of Dexter Allen, who gave his life in the Argentine Forest for the service of his country. The public is cordially invited to attend this service.

STILSON SCHOOL DRAWS TO CLOSE

MANY INTERESTING FEATURES MARK CLOSING EXERCISES OF THE SCHOOL.

One of the most enjoyable occasions of this school year was the play given last Friday evening in the Stilson High School auditorium. Notwithstanding the threatening weather, the cast played to a packed house, and the frequent applause and almost constant laughter bore evidence of the keen delight of our friends from Brooklet came down to witness the play and were so generous in their praise of its merits as an entertainment that Supt. Graham drove down Monday and extended to the Stilson faculty an invitation to repeat the performance at Brooklet High School Thursday evening, May 23. We sincerely appreciate the courtesy of our neighboring school and hope to meet every expectation in the way of delightful entertainment.

A big-hearted board of Stilson High School, with the help of 350 two basketball teams and the skill and generosity of Harley Warnock, installed electric lights over our basketball courts this week. The high school set are very enthusiastic over this improvement and have thoroughly enjoyed the "after supper" practices.

Miss Thetis Barnes and Miss Mary Agnes Cone are busy coaching the senior play to be given in the high school auditorium Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock. This play promises an evening of real entertainment.

The juniors are looking forward to Wednesday evening, when they will entertain in honor of the seniors with a prom party on the high school campus. The brilliant lights that now gleam under the spreading trees on the campus in the evening make it as ideal a place for entertainment as any place in the city.

The music and expression recital will be given in the auditorium Monday evening, May 27th.

On Tuesday evening, May 28th, the junior high school graduating class will have their graduation exercises. D. B. Turner will deliver a short address for these young people and Dr. D. L. Deal will deliver their state certificates. Miss Elizabeth Gilson will deliver the valedictory for the class and Miss Willie Mae Reid will read the salutatory.

On Wednesday evening, May 29th, the senior high graduation takes place. Senator Howell Cone will make the address for the class and Supt. B. R. Olliff will deliver the diplomas. Woodrow Hagan, of Arcolia, will deliver the class valedictory and Miss Mae Coleman will give the salutatory. Mr. Olliff will also deliver approximately fifty perfect attendance certificates to students and a like number of mothers of these students.

On Sunday, May 26th, Rev. A. E. Spencer, of Statesboro, will preach the commencement sermon on the high school auditorium. He will be assisted in the service by Rev. A. V. Sims, of Metter.

Stilson is completing one of the most successful terms of school ever held in Bulloch county and the town and community are truly proud of its splendid school which it considers an asset to the community.

Attractive Rate To Charlotte Reunion

The Confederate veterans reunion will be held in Charlotte, N. C., beginning June 4th and continuing through the 7th. The railroads have given a fare of one cent per mile each way for veterans and their families accompanying them, and a rate of one fare for the round trip for members of auxiliary organizations—U. D. C., Sons of Confederacy, Confederate Memorial Association, etc. The rate from Statesboro for the round trip will be $5.52 for veterans and their families in company with them, and $8.98 for members of the auxiliary organizations. Tickets will be sold only to those holding certificates of membership. Any person desiring to qualify for these rates may get desired information upon application to the editor of this paper or to E. D. Holland, Statesboro. A number are expected to attend from Statesboro.

Georgia Normal Gates To Close at 10 o'clock

Beginning on the fifteenth of this month the main gates on the north-west and south-west entrances of the Georgia Normal College have been locked each evening at 10 o'clock and will be so in the future. It is customary in most all colleges to close the gates at sundown, however, the school authorities at the Normal realize that there may be some visitor to Statesboro anxious to see the campus and buildings and for that reason the gates will be open until 10 o'clock.

The driveway in front of Anderson Hall, from the academic building to the southeast entrance will be closed at 7 o'clock. This is done because passing cars create dust in front of the dining hall, and also for the protection of the students passing in and out of the dining hall at the supper hour.

A CLOSET full of clothing, hats and shoes represents an investment of many hard earned dollars. To buy new again would probably be a severe hardship.

the state, the real source of our funds. When the state fails us, we fail. We hope the trustees will manage to borrow enough money to pay the truck drivers at the end of the last school month and to pay the teachers for their last private month's teaching. We have paid for all teaching for the whole year of 1928-29 that we anticipated paying. The extra teaching that has been done will be paid by the trustees out of local funds, etc. Any salary due any teacher in the Bulloch county system is due by the trustees and not by the county board of education. Pigs Sure Is Pigs Say Terrell Farmers

Terrell county used to be one of the big cotton-growing counties of South-west Georgia. Plenty of cotton is still grown but Terrell county farmers grow something else along with it. Between January 1st and March 15th of this year they shipped fifty-one carloads of fat pigs, worth $68,303.58. On a single recent sale day seven carloads of hogs were sold, $9,848.05. Two carloads of poultry were sold the same day.

A. R. Carter, of Florence county, South Carolina, says he has never bought but one piece of meat in his life and has never bought a pound of corn, hay or fodder. It isn't a case of doing without, either. His eight-horse farm is operated on a self-sustaining basis. Not only does he fatten enough meat on home-grown feed for his family needs, but he also furnishes his five tenant families.

Five years ago Doyle Helms, a 4-H Club member of Clark county, Arkansas, started in the hog business with one Duroc gilt for which he paid $15. Keeping a careful record of all income from the sale of pigs and meat and deducting the value of all feed consumed, his figures show a net profit of $1,068.90 for the five years. And he had eight head of hogs to begin this year's work. W. J. Thibodaux, of Lafourche parish, Louisiana, raises all the pork needed on his farm and sells around $700 worth every year. His hogs are raised chiefly on scraps and waste about the place. They also have access to pasture land that would otherwise be unproductive as it is not fit for cultivation of crops such as are grown in that section.

For the past three years the farmers of Dale county, Alabama, have been selling over $100,000 worth of hogs a year. This year it is expected that total sales will amount to something like $150,000. One hundred ninety farmers recently received $16,157.82 for 1,000 head of hogs. An income of $840 from two Poland China brood sows in 12 months is the experience about which H. A. Miles of McDuffie county, Georgia, will tell you if you ask him whether there is any money in raising hogs.

J. M. Edens, of Sumter county, South Carolina, says that hogging down corn and soy beans was the most profitable project on his farm last year. This fall ten of the best acres of land on his farm will be hogged down. F. P. Bradford, of Tennessee, has also found that hogs pay handsomely for the privilege of saving him the trouble of gathering, storing and marketing corn and soy beans. He turned 45 pigs, weighing 80 pounds each and costing him 12 cents per pound, into a field of 24 acres of corn and beans. When fat, the hogs sold for $1,039.22. His total cost, including 40 worth of dry corn, was $472, leaving him $567.22 cash for the crop of corn and beans.

A CITIZEN WHEREVER WE SERVE

Mississippi Farmer Uses 162 Tons of Chilean Nitrate of Soda on Farm This Year

From 415 tons Chilean nitrate of soda used on 90 acres of cotton in 1917, I have increased the scope of my farming operations and the use of this great fertilizing material, until this year I am using 162 tons on between 1,100 and 1,200 acres in cotton. Whatever success I may have had as a cotton-grower, I attribute, more than to any other single factor, to Chilean nitrate of soda. For me, it has meant the difference between success and failure; and farmers everywhere in the Cotton Belt, by increasing tens of thousands, are finding it the key to big crops and farm profits.—B. L. Moss, Soso, Miss.

Five Dollars for Each Dollar Spent

Twelve years' experience with Chilean Nitrate of Soda as a cotton fertilizer has led me to the certain conclusion that for each dollar spent for it I get, on an average, an increase in the cotton crop worth at least five dollars. Two hundred pounds of Chilean Nitrate per acre, costing about $2, used as a side-dressing, may be depended upon to give an increase in yield of 100 to 150 pounds of lint per acre, in average seasons. Swapping one dollar for five dollars is a trade I always like to make, and using Chilean Nitrate as a side-dressing for cotton is the surest way I know of for making such a trade.—B. L. Moss, Soso, Miss.

Do You Know Why Your Cotton Sheds?

Why does cotton shed? The best authorities now agree that shedding is mainly due to plant starvation, and to its hunger for nitrogen in particular. When hot, dry weather comes in July or August, millions of acres of cotton turn yellow and sickly in color, and countless little bolls are thrown off, until the disheartened grower wonders if any will be left. Chilean nitrate of soda, furnished as it does immediately available nitrogen, supplies the hunger of the starving plants, keeps them green and vigorous, and holds a large part of the fruit, and often doubles the yield. More and more, successful cotton farmers are learning that Chilean nitrate of soda is the most successful of all preventives of cotton shedding.

"Kill It Some More"

A young lady from the city, visiting in the country, encountered a harmless but threatening black snake. After her escort had killed the snake she was still unsatisfied, and kept urging him to "kill it some more, kill it some more." We are reminded of this by the experience of H. F. Bailey, Somerville, Ala., who was told that Chilean nitrate of soda would kill his land. He took a chance on this, and as a result got only 37 bales on 34 acres in 1928, but as the season was Mr. Bailey says he expects to "kill his land some more" in 1929, and that a lot of his neighbors are going to do likewise.

"Soda" Doubles Corn Yield

On the average upland soils of the Cotton Belt, there is no better guaranty of a good crop than an application of 100 to 200 pounds per acre of Chilean nitrate of soda when the corn is about knee-high. Such side-applications generally double the frequently treble or even quadruple the yield of corn. This is so, because quickly available nitrogen is the great need of corn on nearly all Southern soils, and this need is best supplied by Chilean nitrate of soda, the great natural nitrogen-carrier. Its effect in keeping corn a dark, bluish green through periods of hot, dry weather is remarkable, and, once used, no corn grower is ever again satisfied without it.

Do not forget that extra helping of Chilean Nitrate you promised your corn. When it is time to wait, high, apply one hundred to two hundred pounds per acre. This method will aid you in filling the corn crib at harvest time.

FARMERS DEMAND A HIGHER TARIFF

GARNER PROPOSES SLIDING SCALE SUGAR TARIFF TO HELP KEEP CHEAP SUGAR.

Washington, D. C., May 19.—The house took a day off after eight days of debate on tariff bill, but farm state Republicans continued to plead for higher duties on agricultural products before the ways and means committee. Representative Garner, of Texas, the minority leader, announced that if the opportunity arose he would propose an amendment to the sugar schedule providing a sliding scale of duties instead of the 2.40 cents a pound on Cuban raw sugar carried in the bill. The present rate is 1.75 cents.

Under Garner's proposal, which may be offered on the floor only in event the Republicans decide to open the sugar schedule for amendment, the highest duties would be effective when the New York price minus duty, had dropped to a low point. The rate would be less as the price increased and after it reached five cents a pound no tariff at all would be collected. As an example, Garner said if Cuban raw sugar was selling for 1 cent a pound at New York the duty would be 3.20 cents, making the wholesale price, plus duty 4.20 cents. At 1 1/2 cents, the duty would be 2.80; at 2 cents 2.40; at 2 1/2 cents 2.00; at 3 cents 1.60; at 3 1/2 cents 1.20; at 4 cents .80; at 4 1/2 cents .40, and at 5 cents no duty.

The Texan said he understood his proposed rates were not acceptable to the "sugar people" but appeared to him to be a "fair, just and equitable solution of the problem."

"If one must judge by past experience," he said, "it will give to the American people not exceeding 5 1/2-cent sugar at all times, which I think is a reasonable price, and constitutes the cheapest food in America."

"Moreover, it will enable the beet and cane sugar people to know in advance that they are going to receive at least $4.20 per one hundred pounds for 96 degree sugar and they could plant their crop accordingly. This proposal would probably stop in the future continued agitation as to the sugar rate. When Cuban sugar was selling low, as it is now, the rates would be high."

When Cuban sugar was selling high the rates would be low. "It seems to me this is to the best interest of all concerned, Cuba as well as the United States. I submit the suggestion for the consideration of the country as well as the house of representatives."

The idea of the sliding scale sugar tariff is understood to be receiving some study from advisers of President Hoover, who have indicated disapproval of the rates carried in the pending bill. The exact basis upon which they have been working, however, has not been disclosed.

Republican members of the ways and means committee who framed the pending measure, also are split on the sugar rate provided by the bill. Democrats in debate to date have been a unit against the 2.40 cents recommendation. Organized labor, through William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor has declared solidly for it.

The spokesman for a group of members from ten western states, Representative Dickinson, republican, Iowa, expressed the belief that duties would be obtained on hides, and tapers, now on the free list, and said he thought the chances were good for obtaining higher rates on live cattle, casein and dried milk.

However, Dickinson said that he did not think the chances for higher tariffs on butter and blackstrap for distilling purposes were bright. Farm state members have sought higher duties on the article, Representative William E. Hull, republican, Illinois, appearing before the Republicans of the ways and means committee today to urge a duty of eight cents a gallon on blackstrap as against the two cents proposed in the bill and the one-sixth of a cent prevailing now. Representative Woodruff, republican, Michigan, and Brand, republican, Ohio, urged higher duties on dried beans, potatoes and onions. Brand also said he thought the present 25 per cent duty on canned tomatoes should be raised to 40 per cent.

Ways and means committee Republicans ended today the supplemental hearings at which suggestions for changes in the bill have been made daily since last Tuesday. Although western Republicans have predominated at the supplemental hearings seeking high tariffs on agricultural products, many members from the industrial east have advanced proposed amendments, particularly for duties on leather and boots and shoes, all now on the free list. A duty on these commodities is believed largely to depend on whether a tariff is placed on hides which the farm group is advocating.

The Republican committee will begin a series of executive sessions next week to determine whether any of the proposals received warrant their submission on the floor as committee amendments. Another Republican attempt to decide on an amendment limiting rule is not expected to be held until Tuesday or Wednesday and meanwhile general debate will be continued in the house.

Chairman Hawley said today he hoped the house could pass the bill by the end of next week or before June 1 at the latest.

Westbrook Discusses Proper Side Dressing

Georgia farmers know that fertilizers must be used on most of our soils in order to obtain profitable yields of cotton. One of the big questions in the minds of most of our farmers is how much fertilizer should I use to get maximum profit and at the same time stay within the bounds of safety.

The mixed fertilizer has been applied already. The question now is will it pay to supplement the mixed fertilizer with a side dressing of nitrogen, and if so what is the most profitable amount to use. The South Carolina Experiment Station has just published results where different amounts of Chilean nitrate of soda were applied as a side dressing. On the first plot a mixture containing 400 pounds of superphosphate, 108 pounds of nitrate of soda, and 75 pounds of nitrate of soda was applied at planting time. The yield on this plot was 729 pounds of seed cotton, or an increase of 157 pounds over the plot that received no side dressing. On the third plot a side dressing of 200 pounds of nitrate of soda was applied. The yield on this plot was 1,062 pounds of seed cotton per acre, or an increase of 187 pounds over the plot with 100 pounds of side dressing and an increase of 340 pounds over the plot that did not receive a side dressing. The fourth plot received a side dressing of 300 pounds of nitrate of soda per acre at chopping time. The yield on this plot was 1,132 pounds of seed cotton or only 63 pounds more than the plot with a side dressing of 200 pounds. Therefore, it would seem that it is not only safe to use 200 pounds of side dressing but that it is very profitable.

State Competition Through Legislation

(From Barron's Financial Weekly)

There is one great advantage in a federation like the states of this union, each with sovereign powers of legislation, namely, that there can be no constructive law-making in justly imposed taxes and economical government which can reap an early reward for a well-governed state by drawing business and population within its borders from states less fortunate. We have seen valuable taxpayers by ignorant meddling with the necessary trading in cotton futures. The result was that the best governed state got the business. Florida competitively draws wealth within its domicile by intelligently refraining from the imposition of inheritance tax, income tax, corporation tax, and other like levies. It seems to be an evil which carries its own remedy. Legislators ignorantly kill the goose that lays the golden eggs, and those who cannot get away remain to pay the bill.

STANDING BY PARKER

It is interesting and pleasing to the friends of Adjutant General H. C. Parker as well as of Governor Hardman to note that there is to be no break between them while the battle is raging.

Governor Hardman appointed General Parker two years ago immediately upon his own accession to the governorship. General Parker had formerly served his country with distinction and was well qualified from a military standpoint to discharge the duties of the office of adjutant general of Georgia.

The friends of the adjutant general are over the strong opposition of other military forces, who, moved by jealousy, have contributed since then every obstacle to his administration. These forces finally conceived that the time had come for them to deliver the blow which would shake into their own laps the plum which they prized and which General Parker held.

They struck the blow, but it was a failure. Governor Hardman has proved that he is governor and not an automaton. He is determined to exercise his own mind and not be dictated by others.

We are glad Governor Hardman is that sort of man. He is doing himself credit to stand by his appointee against whom there is nothing except prejudice. General Parker is not the sort of man who runs away from a fight. If his friends were going to be frank about his character, they would admit that he rather runs to one than away. It seems that in the present circumstances a fighter is needed. Governor Hardman has shown that he, too, is willing to stand by his own actions and fight where it is necessary.

Manchester authorities have been meddlesome who sing as they beg, rightly deciding that begging is bad enough.

BREAD ON THE WATERS

It is a well recognized principle that the giving of alms with intent to gain reward, has its disappointments. It won't pay out.

Yet one may always feel the assurance that bread cast upon the waters will come back in some way at some time.

Four or five years ago Northeast Georgia suffered a severe drought. It is well remembered that a large section of counties in that part of the state approached the stage of famine.

Bulloch county was among the South Georgia counties that had grown a surplus of corn and contributed to the needs of her sister counties in the stricken district.

It is interesting to note from a paragraph taken from the Hartwell paper in this issue that Hart county returned the favor with a shipment of cotton seed recently. Bulloch did not know when she sent away her corn that some day she would be calling for help in a situation even more serious. She cast her bread upon the waters and the bread has come back.

Some married men will disagree with Sir Richard Pate's statement that "human speech is still in a very primitive condition."

FOR "OUR" COLLEGE

(Savannah Morning News)

An unusual meeting was held at Statesboro Wednesday when the friends of the Georgia Normal College gathered in the interest of that institution. It was an institution meeting, the periodical meeting having become an institution. First the college people were on the ground; then the local, Statesboro and Bulloch supporters were there, then the representatives and senators and county and system superintendents of the schools of the territory, embracing more than the district, were on hand, and the newspaper men and other friends from the region were present.

The school was inspected, the growth noted, the possibilities measured and the needs listed. Loyalty and interest predominated. It was not an official meeting except for the trustees' gathering. It was a gathering of Southeast Georgia to think and plan and act for "our" college, and it drew senators and representatives from much farther sections than the immediate territory. When the people themselves take time and trouble to get together for a college they have a share in it.

This school is a double institution; training teachers for the common schools when the normal colleges of the state cannot turn out enough trained teachers, and giving the girls a chance to get a full college course at home. The preponderant attendance of all institutions comes from a region around the institution. The nearest state institutions to Statesboro are at Milledgeville, Athens, Tifton and Valdosta; there is no college nearer than those points and Macon, of any kind. It is the only college serving the whole southeastern third of the state. Hence the interest. And it has grown from eighty-five students to 359 in regular college work and 654 in summer school, with other special numbering another hundred this year. Residences are being erected to care for the students enrolled in a plant that has accommodations for less than 200, with four to six in a room of the dormitories. No wonder the friends of the school are thinking and planning for it.

Explosive Bombs Are Used in Celebration

Dayton, Ohio, May 20.—High explosive bombs crashed for an hour about the city as the one millionth refrigeration unit to be built by Frigidaire Corporation came through one of its many conveyor lines and emerged as a porcelain finished electric refrigerator, all ready to freeze ice cubes.

Beneath the bomb smoke, flags fluttered from roofs of the factories and office building. But there was no sounding of whistles to signal even a short shut-down. With the plants far behind orders thousands of employees continued their work, while the steady reverberation of bombs marked the building of the millionth unit.

For many weeks three shifts of workmen had been tending the fifteen great porcelain enameled furnaces, held vertically at 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. For weeks and weeks other departments had held to the same operating schedule. In one day 134 carloads of finish products were shipped from the factories. And on the day the millionth unit left the Marana plant the factories were still further behind orders than they were two months earlier.

The millionth Frigidaire, bearing a gold serial plate, will be shipped by airplane to Atlantic City to be a featured exhibit at the annual convention of the National Electric Light Association.

Refrigeration equivalent to 120,000 tons of melting ice daily is the capacity of the one million units already built, according to E. G. Blechler, president and general manager of the corporation. This ice tonnage would be sufficient to supply 9,600,000 families with 25 pounds of ice daily.

"There is a vast difference between the units of 1917 or even as late as 1921 and our present models," said E. G. Blechler, president and general manager. "Back in 1922 there were but two Frigidaire models, one a household cabinet with nine cubic feet of storage capacity and the other with fifteen cubic feet for food storage. The factory price of the lowest priced model was then $850.00. The lowest priced model now sells for only one-fifth that price at the factory."

"The production of each quarter of a million marks a very definite period in development of Frigidaire equipment. The first ten years were a period of small production and basic development. The second quarter of a million marked the period when the business was placed upon a mass production basis, and all fundamental problems solved. The third quarter of a million followed the introduction of the new Frigidaire, with its quiet mechanism. The fourth quarter of a million will always be associated in history with the introduction of the Frigidaire Cold Control, the greatest single contribution to household refrigeration since the building of the first ice box."

Peach Grades Are Changed by Talmadge

Atlanta, May 21.—Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, predicts the shortest peach crop in Georgia since 1923. In a statement issued from his office, the commissioner said:

"From the information reaching my office, I am thoroughly convinced that Georgia will ship the shortest peach crop since 1923. There was an exceptionally good bud crop over the entire state, but excessive rains during the blooming season, curculio infection, wind storms and hail have all played a part in reducing this crop. Under the most favorable conditions for the remainder of the season this year's crop will not exceed 10,000 cars."

"The Hileys and Elberts are especially short in South and Middle Georgia, some sections reporting not more than 10 per cent of the Elberts crop."

"Due to the short crop, I have decided to change the size requirements for the Hileys for this year from 1 7/8 inches in diameter to a minimum size of 1 3/4 inches for U. S. fancies, U. S. No. 1's and U. S. No. 2's. The size requirements on all other varieties will be the same as for 1923."

Cellulose Industries Needed for Georgia

Atlanta, May 18.—Cellulose industries offer great opportunities for future development of forest products, according to a bulletin issued by the Georgia Forest Service.

The rapid development in the use of the cellulose of wood in producing artificial silk, flexible glass, celluloid, artificial marble, pearls, ivory, photographic films, paints, lacquers, enamels, explosives, indurated ware, paper of all kinds, wood alcohol and many other products is described.

It is hoped that wood of all kinds, corn stalks, cotton stalks and other vegetable growth contain cellulose and will be in increasing demand as the years go by.

Georgia land owners are urged to get ready for those new demands for forest materials by reforestation of abandoned farm lands, keeping out forest fires and handling forest areas so as to promote maximum production. Species of wood not suitable for lumber, tree tops where logs are cut, timber cut for thinning, wind falls, mill waste, etc., are mentioned as available supplies of cellulose materials.

INFORMATION OF STATE HIGHWAYS

ORGANIZATIONS OF GEORGIA LEADERS WANT LEGISLATURE TO LET CITIZENS SAY.

Atlanta, Ga., May 17.—The formation of a Joint Committee for Highway Bonds, with headquarters at 336 West Peachtree street, Atlanta, is announced by Walter B. Stewart, chairman of the County Commissioners' Association of Georgia, which recently petitioned the legislature for the issue of $75,000,000 of highway bonds.

This joint committee is composed of representatives of the County Commissioners' Association, the Georgia State Automobile Association, the Macon Chamber of Commerce state-wide committee, and the Georgia division of Kiwanis Clubs. It is to function as an information bureau, to give the citizens the state facts concerning highway financing and the present state of highway construction in Georgia.

The committee composed of Walter B. Stewart, of Fulton county, chairman; T. Baldwin Martin, of Macon; J. H. Rhodes, of Brunswick; of Columbus; William R. Bowen, of Fitzgerald; C. R. Brown of Clarksville; N. H. Mitchell, of Macon; A. J. Lippett, of Albany; Judge Harry D. Reed, of Waycross; Frank H. Turner of Blythe; William H. Wright of Savannah; Usher T. Windlett, of Macon, treasurer; and A. W. McKeand, of Atlanta, secretary and campaign manager.

The committee proposes to conduct an exhaustive discussion of the state's highway problems and the facts concerning the present state of highway through the press of the state and by means of a special series of meetings in every county to be addressed by some of the most prominent bond advocates. At the same time, it expects to make its headquarters a clearing house of information so that any citizen who wishes to secure special facts pertaining to highways and finances may secure the data desired; and for this reason, correspondence is being invited, to be addressed to the Atlanta office.

Petitions will also be circulated in every county for the signatures of the citizens of those counties, particularly the automobile owners asking for the legislature to authorize a referendum on highway bonds at the next general election so that the voters of the state may decide and be free for all whether Georgia should issue highway bonds so that the state system can be completely paved at the earliest possible moment.

When Miss Edhel Romigan of Chicago was arrested for drunkenness it took five policemen to put her in a cell.

Peach Grades Are Changed by Talmadge

Atlanta, May 21.—Eugene Talmadge, state commissioner of agriculture, predicts the shortest peach crop in Georgia since 1923. In a statement issued from his office, the commissioner said:

"From the information reaching my office, I am thoroughly convinced that Georgia will ship the shortest peach crop since 1923. There was an exceptionally good bud crop over the entire state, but excessive rains during the blooming season, curculio infection, wind storms and hail have all played a part in reducing this crop. Under the most favorable conditions for the remainder of the season this year's crop will not exceed 10,000 cars."

"The Hileys and Elberts are especially short in South and Middle Georgia, some sections reporting not more than 10 per cent of the Elberts crop."

"Due to the short crop, I have decided to change the size requirements for the Hileys for this year from 1 7/8 inches in diameter to a minimum size of 1 3/4 inches for U. S. fancies, U. S. No. 1's and U. S. No. 2's. The size requirements on all other varieties will be the same as for 1923."

Robert Holwyn, of Chicago, had his mother-in-law arrested for knocking out two of his front teeth when he swore at his wife.

ESSAY CONTEST ON HIGHWAY SAFETY

FREE TRIP TO NATIONAL SESSIONS OF GRANGE AT SEATTLE, WASH., NEXT AUTUMN.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—A national-wide safety essay contest to be conducted by the National Grange, it was announced here today by L. J. Fisher, national secretary. The subject is "Safety on the Highway for Children and Adults." All members under eighteen years of age in any of the 8,000 subordinate granges scattered throughout the United States will be eligible to enter the contest. 120 state and national prizes being offered for the best papers.

Pointing to the many notable contributions which the National Grange, during the 63 years of its existence, has made to the welfare of the nation and the farming fraternity which represented it, Fisher declared today that the organization "is pleased to announce this competition among its younger members, designed to impress upon them, their parents and friends alike, the necessity for care and caution upon the streets and highways, either as pedestrians or as drivers of vehicles."

In selecting the winners, elimination will be made through committees appointed by the subordinate granges in each of the granges. The winning essays will be forwarded to the state masters who in similar manner will select the best state essays. These will be sent to the master of the national grange who through a committee will choose the six national winners. The winner of the first national prize will be given a trip with all expenses paid to the national grange sessions to be held at Seattle, Washington, this autumn. In each of the thirty states where granges exist the best essay will be awarded a cash prize, and the writers of the next three in each state will receive bronze medals. The prizes are being donated by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce.

The Highway Education Board, which is experienced in educational work of this sort, is co-operating with the National Grange in the enterprise. The competition will close on July 4 next, by which date it is announced, all essays must be in the hands of the subordinate lecturers of the various granges. Detailed instructions, with posters illustrating the purpose of the contest, have been sent to the masters of all subordinate granges.

DEAL—AKINS

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Deal announce the marriage of their daughter Ruby to Mr. Fred Morgan Akins, which occurred at the home of Elder A. C. McCorkle on Thursday morning, May 23rd. Only a few friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by Elder McCorkle. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Akins left by auto for Atlanta, where they will spend a short while.

FOR THIRD GRADE MOTHERS

Mrs. B. H. Ramsey, grade mother for section B of the third grade, entertained the mothers of the pupils of that grade at tea Tuesday afternoon. The guests were invited to call at the room of Miss Mable Clark, teacher of the grade. Miss Clark and Prof. Moton assisted Mrs. Ramsey in receiving the guests. Mrs. B. Deal kept the register. Mrs. W. H. Blitch and Mrs. J. M. Norris served punch. For the occasion Miss Clark had her room beautifully decorated with baskets of bright spring flowers. It is interesting to know that during the year this grade has won five first prizes and tied six out of eight others. Mrs. Ramsey presented the class with a picture bearing the names of the mothers of the grade and names of the pictures bought with the prize money. Thirty-five guests called during the afternoon.

Presbyterian Church

The congregations last Sunday at both morning and evening services were privileged and delighted to hear the Rev. James B. Ficken, D. D., of Decatur, who in the morning gave a very interesting account of the state mission work and at night vividly portrayed "Abraham Tested."

Because of the High School commencement exercises on next Sunday there will be no morning service after Sunday school, but at night the pastor will use as his text in speaking to the young people, "Neglect not the gift that is in thee." Our people are urged to hear Rev. Lewis Lamotte, of Waycross, who has recently become pastor of the First Presbyterian church of that city. He will be the preacher at the High School at 11:30 a. m.

Mrs. Nellie Wilson of Boston used her husband for dressing her half a day after their marriage.

20 YEARS AGO

(From Bulloch Times, May 26, 1909)

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams arrived from Bainbridge to spend a few days at their home here.

Roger Holland returned from College Park, where he had been attending Georgia Military College.

J. L. Renfro, who had been teaching school here, announced that he will take up the practice of law.

"The Utopia" was the name of a new refreshment place opened by C. W. Brannen, Homer C. Parker and Henry L. Grind, Jr. Johnson, clerk.

The Allen school (later Smith-Allden-Deal) closed with appropriate exercises. Talks were made by J. E. Brannen, A. M. Deal, R. Lee Moore and R. Simmons.

The city council of Statesboro adopted an ordinance regulating the sale of beer. One of the provisions was that such business should only be operated between the hours of 7 a. m. and 8 p. m. The ordinance was signed by H

Giant Amphibian to Feature Exposition

Macon, Ga., May 20.—One of the big features of the Southeastern Aeronautical Exposition, to be staged here May 31st through June 1st and 2nd, by the Macon Junior Chamber of Commerce will be the appearance during the entire exposition of the giant Sikorsky amphibian plane recently placed in use by the Pan-American Petroleum Corporation. This plane is one of the largest ever seen in Middle Georgia and will arrive here with a convoy of six or seven smaller planes.

The Sikorsky plane is an all-metal ship powered by two Pratt-Whitney motors with a capacity for eight passengers in addition to the crew of three. It has a cruising speed of 125 miles per hour and consumes 40 gallons each hour, carrying a supply of 350 gallons in the wing storage tanks.

The plane is a new purchase by the Pan-American Petroleum Corporation and will be christened while in Macon by Luther Williams, mayor of Macon.

The concern owning the plane has offered to furnish all the gasoline needed by ships visiting the exposition, according to R. B. Small, local manager.

The Sikorsky is expected to attract hundreds to Miller Field during the exposition. It is the very latest in aircraft. Takes off from land in eight seconds and from water in twelve. Its cabin really has space for twenty-three passengers, but only a few of this is used for carrying anchors, flares, life belts and other equipment necessary should a forced landing ever take place over water.

Unknown Farmer Deserves Recognition

Distinguished recognition is due the unknown Southern farmer who, probably fifty or more years ago, used for the first time Chilean nitrate of soda as a side-dressing on cotton and corn. He is so obscure that no state can justly claim him. The effectiveness of this method is evidenced by the fact that hundreds of thousands of farmers are today his followers.

Unguided in his efforts, this obscure farmer sought through side-dressing to find a better way and time to fertilize these two crops. Encouraged by the results of the earlier use of nitrate of soda as a side-dressing, research workers have found that there is a critical time in the life of these two plants when a quickly available nitrogen applied to them will increase production more than if applied at any other time. This time has been found to be for cotton just before the first cultivation after churning, and for corn thirty-five to forty days after planting or when the corn is from knee to waist high. These workers have also found, in the case of cotton, that best yields are secured when one-quarter of the nitrogen is applied just before planting and three-quarters as side-dressing.

Above illustration shows remarkable results obtained by side-dressing cotton with Chilean nitrate of soda. Field on left 1921 lbs. per acre. Field on right, which received no nitrate of soda, produced only 275 lbs. A difference of 1645 lbs. seed cotton.

Recent experiments at the Alabama Station showed that best results were obtained when 500 pounds per acre of a mixture composed of 50 pounds of nitrate of soda, 400 pounds superphosphate, and 50 pounds muriate of potash was applied under the crop and side-dressed with 150 pounds nitrate of soda after the cotton was chopped.

It is interesting to recall that it was a missionary working among the Indians of South America who first discovered the wonderful value of this material as a plant food or fertilizer. Through some mysterious process of nature it was formed and deposited in the desert country along the western shores of Chile.

This material has been found to possess many superior qualities and has been recognized for more than fifty years as the standard nitrogen fertilizer. In the earlier days it was known as Chile saltpeter; in the South it is known as "soda," but from its origin and chemical analysis it is called Chilean nitrate of soda.

What Do You Know of Federal Reserve Banks?

Almost everybody has pronounced views about the operation and policies of the Federal Reserve System, but relatively few have even an elementary idea of the actual working of the system and its organic relation to the business of the country. That even those whose daily work is in the sphere of banking and finance may sometimes be hazy about the status of reserve banks is shown, Barron's Financial Weekly remarks, "by the attempt last year of an ambitious and successful bond salesman to add the Federal Reserve Bank in his city to the list of possible clients because he noticed in newspaper headlines that the institution had bought several million dollars of securities in a given week."

The Barron's article in which this incident is related presents a significantly clear outline of the Federal Reserve System—its make-up, the coordinating mechanism, its chief functions, the manner in which an elastic currency is provided, and the various methods of credit control. An interesting sidelight on the money market problem appears in the statement that, because business men rather than bankers form a majority of the board of each bank, "experience has shown that the lowering of the rediscount rate, which acts as a stimulant to business, is generally easier to obtain than the raising of the rate, which would tend to have an adverse effect on business. Some critics of the system feel that bankers, if dominant in the system, would adjust the rediscount rate to current conditions in the money market more in accordance with historic methods of central banking procedure than is the case at present."

Middle Life Troubles

"About twenty years ago, my health was very bad," says Mrs. Howard, of Terrell, Texas. "I was passing through a critical time in my life, and I suffered a great deal. I was not at all strong, and my nerves got all upset. I had hot flashes, and some times would get suddenly so faint I could not stand up. My head would whirl, and I could not see a thing. I would have to lie down for hours at a time."

"I improved so much after I had taken Cardui for a while. I continued the medicine for some months, until I had passed the critical period. Since then, I have given Cardui to my five daughters. All of them have continued the use of Cardui in their homes. We have all been better for having taken it."

COUNTY AGENT

The practice of top dressing our cash crops has been adopted as one of the important steps in the successful production of a crop. This top dressing is especially profitable with cotton, tobacco, corn and small grain, but the two crops recognized as cash crops are cotton and tobacco.

A crop of tobacco of 1,000 pounds takes from the soil on which it is produced 7.7 pounds of actual phosphoric acid, 59 pounds of actual nitrogen and 78 pounds of actual potash. It is noted that the tobacco crop is a heavy feeder on potash, taking more potash from the soil than a combination of the other two elements. This being true it is necessary to supply these elements in the right proportion to get maximum results.

The average tobacco grower applies 1,000 pounds of 8-3-5 under his crop which is only 50 pounds of actual potash, just 30 pounds short of what the crop needs. It would therefore seem advisable to make an application of 100 pounds of sulphate of potash per acre to our tobacco to insure maximum yields and above all to get quality. Potash is the quantity maker and where it is deficient the crop will lack the quality necessary to command the top prices. In some instances on very light land 50 pounds of nitrate of soda can be mixed with 100 pounds of sulphate of potash and used as a top dresser, increased yields and quality will result at harvest time. Where sulphate of potash or a mixture of potash and soda is applied it should be put out just as soon as the plants recover from being set in the field. Early applications pay well.

A top of cotton (500 pounds of lint) takes from the soil on which it is produced 24 pounds of actual phosphoric acid, 97 pounds of actual nitrogen and 54 pounds of actual potash. Where we apply 3,500 pounds of a 9-2-3, 9-3-5 or 10-4-4 we are adding enough phosphoric acid but we are not adding nitrogen and potash enough to get maximum yields. It is evident then that a nitrogen-potash top dresser made up from 200 pounds of nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia and 50 to 100 pounds of muriate potash would be necessary to give the cotton plant enough plant food to get maximum yields. It is very easy to make up a nitrogen-potash top dresser or you mixer will make it up for you, using nitrate of soda or sulphate of ammonia, along with muriate potash or manure salts. Knit can be used also, but in order to get enough potash, muriate potash should be used.

These applications of top dresser to our main money crops will materially increase the yields and also the profits. We can't afford to neglect the important step of making a side application to these crops when it means profit to our farmers.

Early applications are essential. With tobacco the application should be made as early as possible after the plants begin growth in the field. With cotton this application should be made just after the cotton is chopped out and before the dirt is put back.

Plan now to top dress your cotton and tobacco. Your crop needs this extra plant food and you need the extra profits.

E. P. JOSEY, County Agent.

STUDEBAKER

world's largest builder of Eights offers championship performance at One-Prof prices in The Commander Eight

$1495 at the factory

COMMANDER EIGHT CONVERTIBLE CARRIAGE, $1645. Six wire wheels and trunk rack standard equipment. COMMANDER EIGHT COUPE, $1495. Price at factory. Bumpers and spare tire extra.

TODAY'S Commander Eight has swept to a popularity eclipsing even that of its predecessor, the car which sped 25,000 miles in 22.68 minutes.

Studebaker, Builder of Champions, holder of every official speed and endurance record for fully equipped stock cars, now sells more 8-cylinder cars than any other manufacturer on earth.

The first Studebaker straight eight was introduced at last year's motor shows. Its champion performance started the nation's swing to Studebaker. Smart, youthful style added still greater impetus. But Studebaker's One-Prof value is the real reason for Studebaker supremacy.

The Commander Eight blends flashing style and supple power with comfort unknown until Studebaker introduced ball bearing spring suspension.

Hydraulic shock absorbers further enhance its travel ease. Double-draw frame is lower, costlier, but sturdier and safer. Easier, more powerful brakes; steel-core steering wheel; non-shattering windshield—Commander quality makes its One-Prof price quite as remarkable as its performance.

And Commander performance is something you can never forget, once you enjoy it for an hour. May we place a Commander at your disposal?

Central of Georgia Calls Attention to Danger to Automobilists or Pedestrians Venturing Upon Railroad Tracks

The Central of Georgia again calls attention to the dangers of automobilists or pedestrians crossing railroad tracks without making sure that no train is near. In 1928 a total of 2,568 men, women and children were killed in highway grade crossing accidents, while in addition more than 5,000 trespassers were killed on railroad tracks or property. In contrast, although nearly 800 million fare paying passengers were transported by the railroads during the year, only 16 of these were killed in train accidents.

The grade crossing problem is one of the most important facing this country today, yet there is no other offering so easy a solution. There were 137 grade crossing accidents on the Central of Georgia in 1928, in which 19 were killed and 81 injured. Every one of these accidents could have been prevented by the exercise of the same caution which the average pedestrian exercises before crossing a street—looking to make sure the way is clear before leaving the sidewalk. Of the 137 accidents on our railroad only 103 were caused by our trains or cars striking the vehicles, as 34, or 25%, were caused by automobiles running into our equipment, sometimes after the train had come to a complete stop.

Some students of the grade crossing problem advocate the entire elimination of all crossings through construction of overhead bridges or underpasses. Nearly twenty billion dollars would be needed for this work, and the cost would have to be passed on to the general public either in the form of increased rates for the railroads or increased taxes for municipalities undertaking or assisting in the project. The most practical and economical solution is contained in the Supreme Court's decree that the responsibility rests upon the driver to make sure no train is near before he ventures upon a railroad's track.

Grade crossing fatalities, large though their total is, represent less than ten per cent of the fatalities from accidents in which automobiles are involved. During the year a careless disregard at grade crossings, an additional 25,000 persons are killed each year in other automobile accidents on streets and roads. Automobiles have been brought to a high state of efficiency and few accidents are due to mechanical defects. If automobilists would show the same care in protecting their own lives and those of their companions that the railroads show in protecting lives entrusted to them, the automobile could be made almost as safe as the railroad passenger car. And all too frequently it is the careful driver who becomes the victim of the reckless, incompetent or irresponsible.

The railroads are not actuated by selfish motives in advocating care on the part of automobile drivers, not only at grade crossings but on highways. On the contrary, as the hazards of automobile travel increase more and more travelers, particularly among the reasonably careful, will return to the railroads as the safest means of getting from place to place. The Central of Georgia has no desire to profit either directly or indirectly from these automobile tragedies. It therefore urges its friends and patrons who use automobiles to practice every possible precaution, particularly before venturing upon the tracks of this or any other railroad.

Constructive criticism and suggestions are invited.

A. E. CLIFT, President, Central of Georgia Railway Company.

Savannah, Ga., May 14, 1929.

Chinese Divorce Customs

In China it is not possible for a woman to secure a divorce from her husband. A man can divorce his wife for any of nine causes. Divorce by mutual consent is possible. If a wife has married her husband's parents for three years, or if the husband was poor at the time of marriage and has since grown rich, the husband may not divorce his wife except in the case of infidelity.

THE AMUSU THEATRE

MOTION PICTURES STATESBORO, GA.

A MODERN YOUTH DRAMA

Saturday and Monday, May 25th and 27th

"SHOULD A GIRL MARRY?"

With Helen Foster and Donald Keith; story by Arthur Hoerl; directed by Scott Pembroke. "Should a Girl Marry" is one of the really big pictures that you have been waiting for, dealing, as it does, with a topic of vital interest to the PARENTS as well as the youth of today. How many bad girls are there in this town? Can you tell a bad girl from a good girl? Friend, here is a lesson for all in this pitiful tale of a young girl who sacrificed everything for what she thought was LOVE. Every parent and boy and girl should see this picture—it is the life story told by a pitiful girl, who thought she knew what love was—here you have a chance to get a great lesson. You'll learn what tragedy faced this young girl who was caught in the meshes of the law for trifling with love, passion and men's affections, would lead to misery, unhappiness and loss of friends. "SMITH'S BABY'S BIRTHDAY."

BURNHAM-DELOACH

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred N. Burnham announce the marriage of their daughter Florence Adele to Edward Lowell DeLoach, April 29. The wedding took place in Jerusalem, Palestine, at St. George Cathedral. Mr. DeLoach is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. H. DeLoach of Chicago, formerly of Statesboro, and grandson of Judge E. D. Holland and Z. T. DeLoach, both of Bulloch county. Mrs. DeLoach was a native of Chicago.

BRIDGE FOR VISITOR

Misses Selma and Lucy Rae Rushing delightfully entertained four tables of players at bridge on Saturday afternoon at their home in Andersonville, honoring their attractive guests, Misses Meta DeLoach, Doris and Nellie Hendrix and Helen Edwards, of Claxton. They used a pretty color scheme of yellow and white and carried it out in a dainty frozen salad that was served late in the game. Easter lilies were used in the profusion, lending their graceful charm to the occasion. The honor guests were presented with dainty party handkerchiefs. High score prize, a bridge set, was won by Miss Sarah Hall. For low score a piece of lingerie was given Miss Meta DeLoach.

ROADS TO BE BUILT IN NEARBY STATES

HIGHWAY BONDS COMMITTEE IS SEEKING SUPPORT OF PEOPLE OF GEORGIA.

Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—Georgia's five neighboring states have reported to the United States Bureau of Public Roads that they expect to spend for highway construction and maintenance during 1929 more than $147,000,000. Georgia made no report. Of these Florida will spend $45,634,712; Tennessee, $35,800,000; North Carolina, $28,900,000; Alabama, $21,850,000; South Carolina, $19,400,000. In each instance, finances are being derived from bond money, with the exception of Florida, which is at the present time taking over the bonded indebtedness of the counties on a state bond basis.

Of the total estimated expenditures reported, the state highway departments will spend more than $81,000,000 on the main roads of the states. Sixty-five million dollars will go for the construction of new state roads and bridges, and the balance for maintenance, overhead, administration and other charges. In addition to this the counties of the states will spend about half of their total funds of approximately $66,000,000 for the construction of new roads and bridges.

This means that in the five states bordering Georgia there will be spent during 1929 at least $100,000,000 for new construction. Georgia in the meantime will attempt to pay off the balance of contracts let in 1928 and maintain its system so far as its limited finances will permit. Reports from the state auditor's office and the report of the governor's special highway commission indicate that there will be no funds available during the entire year to let new contracts, but that there will still be a deficit at the end of the year on contracts let last year which are still to be carried out.

Improvements to be made by the five neighboring states cover 4,465 miles in their state systems. Of this 1,250 miles will be improved earth, 1,875 miles sand, clay, gravel or macadam, and 1,340 miles of hard surface. Almost enough roads will be built by them to complete Georgia's system.

In the opinion of the joint committee for highway bonds, 1929 will prove one of the most disastrous years in the history of Georgia's highway program, not only because of the small amount of construction programs of bonding states which will throw the lack of development in this state into strong relief. The committee believes that the only salvation for Georgia lies in following the example of all these five states and issue highway bonds according to the recommendation of the governor's commission and the county commissioners' association.

Normal Summer School Will Open 11th of June

On June 11th the summer session of the Georgia Normal will begin. Registration for local, city and Bulloch county applicants will begin on Monday, June 10th. No classes will be held until June 12th.

The college is making preparations for a record attendance this year. Competition is getting very keen for teaching positions, and teachers must have superior training received in summer schools to get and hold positions. The college has secured most of its regular term teachers to stay during the summer and in addition has added about twenty others, making about forty instructors in all. Over one hundred courses will be offered this year of regular college grade. Besides these there will be work offered in high school and special music and physical education work.

There is no need of any Bulloch county teacher or student leaving the county for summer school work unless it is for graduate work. The Georgia Normal will offer all the courses that need be given, and at much less expense than can be had in paying railroad fare and higher expenses at points north or further south. The cost to local students, exclusive of board and room, is only $6.75. There will be a bus running to and from the college each day, and besides these there will be hundreds of cars that a person can get a ride with each day for a very nominal sum.

IMPORTED WATERMELONS SEEN ON LOCAL MARKET

Statesboro people have seen a few 1929 model watermelons—but only a few. These were not home-grown, but came from Florida. A colored man on the streets last week was the envy of his own race and many of his white friends as he displayed a 38-pounder which he said came from Leesburg, Fla. Later there were a number on sale at the grocery stores. The home-grown product is yet thirty days distant. The prospect for watermelons is not as good this year as in past seasons.

LAURENS COUNTY WILL GET PAVING

ROAD BOARD TO LET WORK ON DUBLIN-WRIGHTSVILLE ROAD SOON.

Dublin, Ga., May 25.—Official notice that sealed bids for concrete paving on Federal road No. 20 from Dublin to the Johnson county line, a distance of 13.3 miles, will be opened at the offices of the state highway department in East Point, Ga., Wednesday, May 29, at 10 o'clock. The project was received here today by the Dublin division offices of the highway department.

The announcement of the opening of the bids provides for the beginning of the paving construction on the project within 15 days after the awarding of the contract and time limit of 30 days in which to announce the awarding of the contract. It is reserved by the highway department.

The paving of this stretch will leave only 25 miles of dirt roads between Dublin and Federal route 1 which runs north from Swainsboro to Augusta and beyond and south from Swainsboro to Jacksonville.

Within the 45-day limit on the beginning of work, it is estimated that the completion of the concrete paving should come at least by Christmas of this year.

Work on the paving of this stretch of Federal road No. 20 will culminate in intensive and concerted campaign by the citizens of Laurens county for the past year to secure the hard surfacing of this portion of the route.

The campaign to secure the paving was undertaken and sponsored by the local chamber of commerce and of conferences held with highway officials and trips to the Atlanta offices of the highway department were made on more than one occasion to present Laurens county's claims.

BANKS TO CLOSE MONDAY FOR JEFF DAVIS'S BIRTHDAY

The banks of Statesboro will observe Jefferson Davis's birthday by closing for the day Monday, June 3d. All persons having business with the banks will bear this in mind.

Portal School Closing Is Now in Progress

The closing exercises of the Portal High school are now in progress and will come to a close with the graduation exercises Monday evening.

Mrs. Herbert Kingery presented her music pupils in a recital Wednesday evening in the school auditorium. After the recital "A Rose Dream," a pretty operetta in two acts, was presented.

On Friday evening at 8:30 o'clock the senior class will present "Dixie Rose," a comedy in three acts.

Sunday morning at 11:30 the program is as follows: Processional; Gloria Patri; song, "Love Divine"; invocation; announcements; offertory; anthem, "I Lay My Sins on Jesus"; sermon by Rev. Geo. M. Acree; song, "Guide Me, O Thou Great Jehovah"; benediction; recessional.

Monday evening at 8:30 the graduation exercises will be held. There are thirteen members of the class, Lucile Suddath, Marie Hendrix, Kathleen Daughtry, Evelyn Brack, Reeta Edmfield, Iverna Ellis, Rubie Brinson, Maye Dal Brannon, Glynn Daughtry, Ben Williams, Max Edmfield, Robert Kitchens, and Leo Parrish. It is regretted, however, that Miss Kathleen Daughtry will be unable to attend the exercises on account of a recent serious operation. The program for the evening is as follows: Processional; class song; salutatory, Leo Parrish; class prophecy, Iverna Ellis; piano solo, Marie Hendrix; valedictory, Lucile Suddath; literary address, Leroy Covart; of Statesboro; delivery of diplomas, B. R. Olliff, county school superintendent.
